Professional Summary

Data Science and Business student (5th semester – ESPM), with corporate experience and a solid foundation in Python, SQL, R, Tableau, and advanced Excel. I have worked on academic and corporate projects involving data analysis, system integration, and interactive visualization, as well as participated in hackathons and innovation initiatives. Communicative, curious, and focused on continuous learning, I am seeking an internship opportunity to apply my knowledge in data analysis and manipulation, automation, and business intelligence.
